- Interpretive and Critical Business Studies Seminars
  - AI vs. Human Insight in Qualitative re: Who Wins? (8.11.; 10.30-12:00)
Can AI truly grasp the complexities of human experience, or are we losing the soul of qualitative research to machine algorithms? In this provocative panel discussion, we will debate the impact of AI tools like Atlas.ti, Claude, and others, sharing successes, failures, and the ethical dilemmas they face. Join us as we confront the future of research: Will AI enhance our understanding of human stories, or reduce them to data points?
On-site only, room will be announced.
  - Current research Kristián Šrám (29.11.;10:30 – 12:00)

Former student of FBA and current researcher at Institute of Sociological Studies at Charles University Kristián Šrám will present his current research from the field of economic sociology. The abstract will be specified in late October.
